

IT'S ALL TRUE 2011 ANNOUNCES OPENING FILMS

It's All True 2011 - 16th International Documentary Film Festival will open on 31 March at 8:30pm at Cine Livraria Cultura in São Paulo, with "The Black Power Mixtape" (2011) by Göran Hugo Olsson, an immersion in the history of the black movement of the USA through rich archival material of Swedish TV. Shown in this year's Sundance Film Festival, the film presents commentaries of leaders of the struggle for civil rights in the USA in the '60s and '70s, like Angela Davis, and engaged contemporary artists, like Spike Lee.

Opening night in Rio de Janeiro will take place on 1 April at 8:30pm at Unibanco Arteplex-Botafogo with the feature "...But Film Is My Mistress" (2010), along with the short "Images from the Playground" (2009), both with production by the Ingmar Bergman Foundation and directed by Swedish filmmaker and critic Stig Björkman, paying tribute to the life and work of Ingmar Bergman (1918-2007).

In "...But Film Is My Mistress," great contemporary filmmakers like Lars Von Trier, Martin Scorsese and Woody Allen comment on the Bergman works that most influenced them. "Images from the Playground" gathers never before seen scenes of the filmmakers day-to-day and career, including private records made by Bergman himself.

The It's All True 2011 opening nights are for guests only. Both programs will have later projections open to the public.
